About Comligo

Who are we?

We are an online learning company, specialising in the Spanish language. We offer live online classes with native Spanish speaking teachers to organisations and individuals across the globe. Our teachers come from different countries all over the Hispanic world and bring an international multicultural perspective to our students.

Comligo was officially established in 2020 as a result of the transition to a fully online learning model of the founding management team. This group of professionals was interested in expanding the Spanish language and Hispanic culture around the world.

Its name is an adaptation of the Latin word "conligo", which means "to connect". This name conveys the idea of being linked in the digital era through the use of a common language.
