SAC ACTUN

-  #GoodNews #Mexico wants the #SacActun system declared a @UNESCO mixed world heritage site because it has both natural and cultural elements of universal value. bit.ly/2EFzn0u
-  #SacActun could be the most important underwater archaeological site in the world, with sites related to the first settlers of the Americas, Pleistocene megafauna, and more than a hundred associated with the Mayan civilization. bit.ly/2EFzn0u
-  Access to the #SacActun system is via 248 cenotes, and 198 archaeological sites have been found, of which 138 seem to be related to the Mayan civilization and at least two, to pre-ceramic skeletal remains that are at least 9,000 years old. bit.ly/2EFzn0u
-  Just like a big fish eating a little fish, #SacActun has absorbed the Dos Ojos system, and now covers a distance equivalent to that between #Cancun and #Chetumal. bit.ly/2EFzn0u
