

Jalisco in your pocket

Introduction

We invite you to discover why Jalisco is the best place to invest in Mexico.

Our state is well known worldwide as having high quality infrastructure, an innovative economy, an excellent business environment and exceptionally qualified human capital - people who will soon form part of your team.

Jalisco is the birth place of tequila and mariachi. Guadalajara, its capital city, is home to Mexico's thriving high tech industry, placing it as the leader in Latin America. More than 2,600 foreign companies of different industrial sectors have invested in the state.

Jalisco has benefitted directly and indirectly by the bilateral investment treaties and free trade agreements signed by Mexico with over 80 different countries.

Jalisco has been a key place for the development of productive sectors such as agriculture, food processing, furniture manufacturing, footwear, textiles, and jewelry. The same can be said of the information and communications technology industry, one of the state's most important industries.

Jalisco is home to manufacturers of highly-complex electronic devices and automotive parts. We also specialize in added value services (BPO, ITO, KPO), aerospace engineering, aeronautics, pharmaceuticals, biotechnology, multimedia, and software companies.

Excellent Location

The perfect geography for all kinds of entrepreneurial projects

Jalisco is a great place

With an area of 78,588 km², Jalisco accounts for 4% of the total area of Mexico. Jalisco is divided into 125 municipalities of diverse geography, making it the perfect place for all kinds of entrepreneurial projects.

Guadalajara, the capital city, and five other bordering municipalities make up the second largest metropolitan area in the country.

The Metropolitan Area of Guadalajara is strategically close to two of the country's most important commercial seaports: Manzanillo and Lázaro Cárdenas.

Jalisco is close to the United States

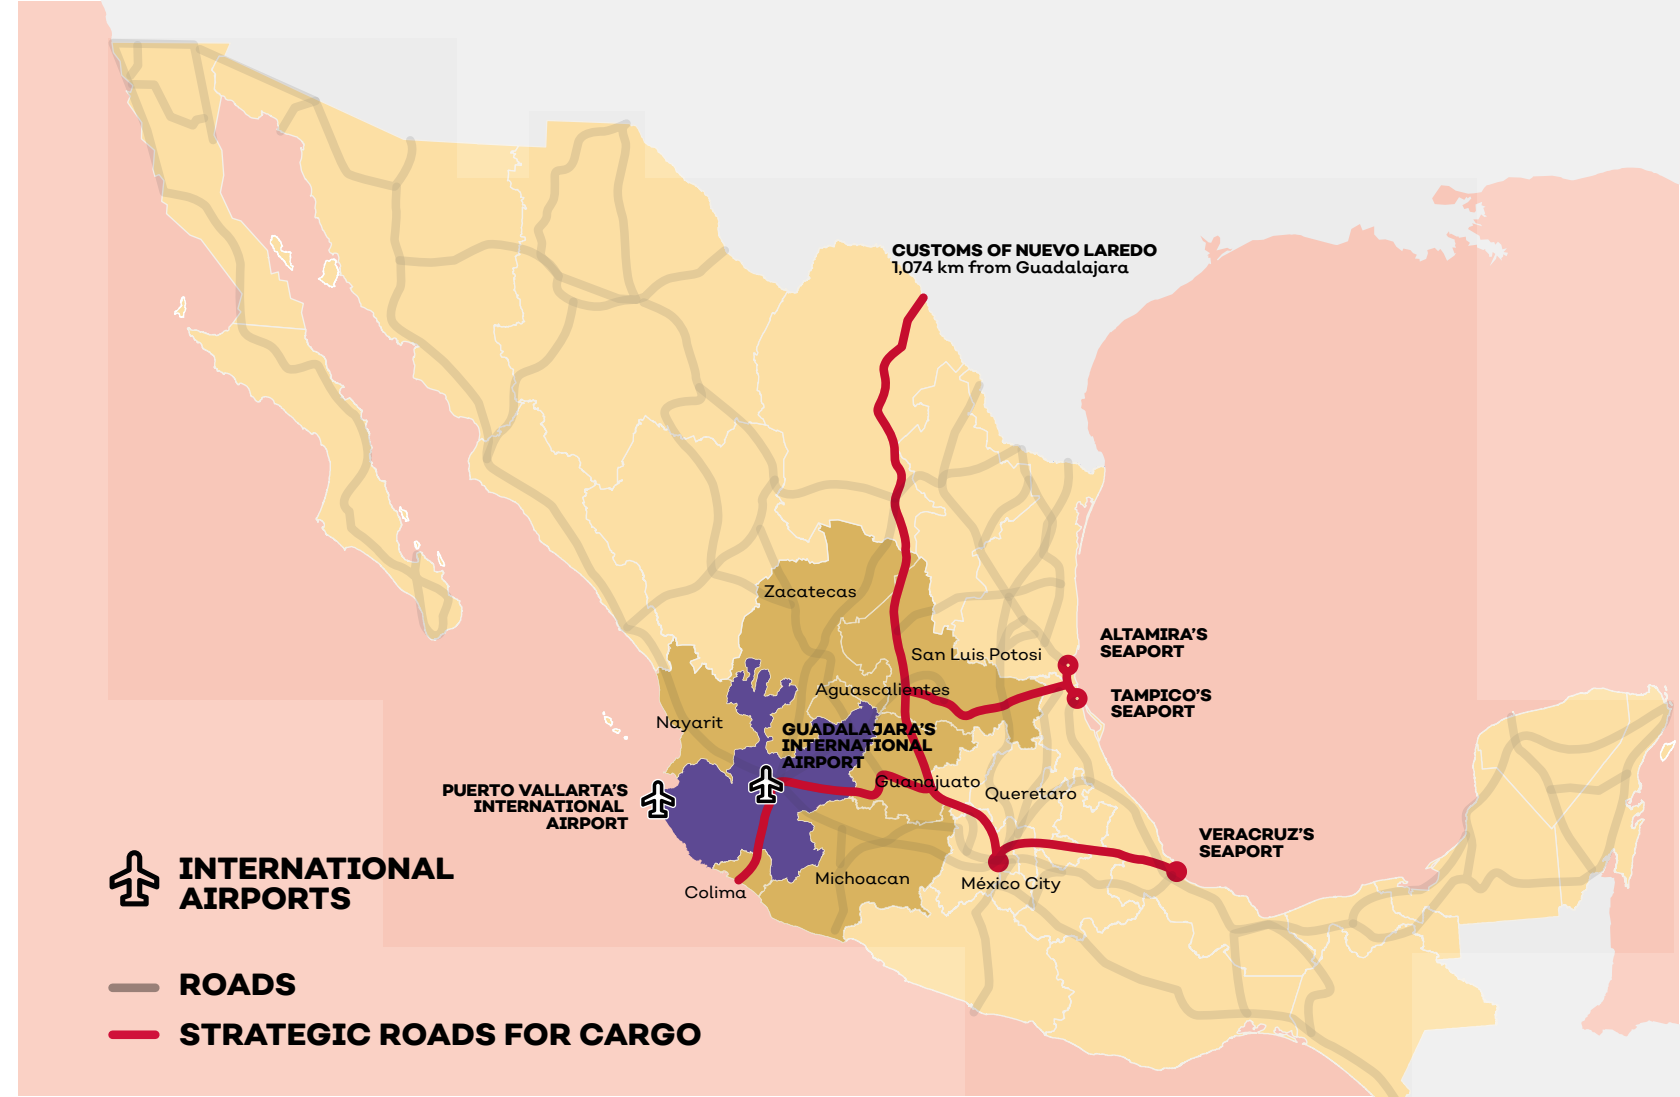

There are 1,074 km of state-of-the-art highway infrastructure leading towards Nuevo Laredo. Los Angeles, California is only 2,104 km away; that is less than 3.5 hours on a direct flight from Guadalajara.

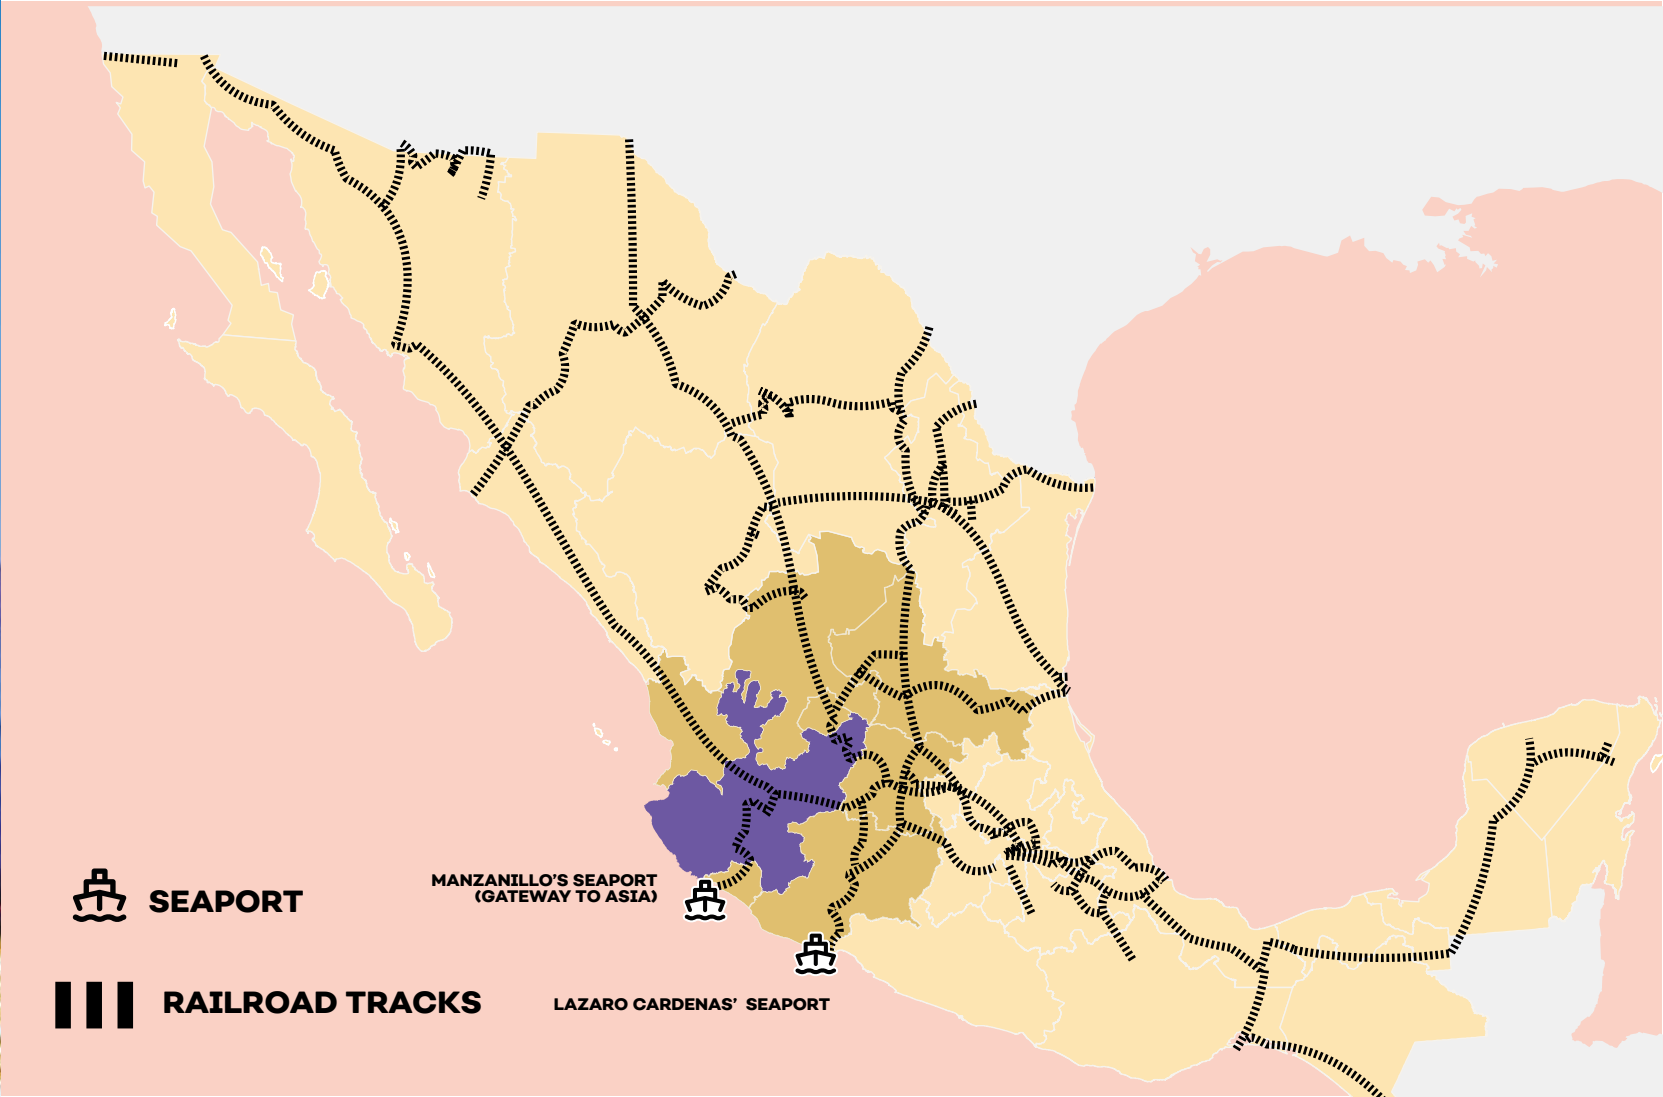

On average, there is one flight per hour to the United States from Guadalajara.

Jalisco is a safe place to live

"If Jalisco were a country, it would have Switzerland's population size"

Infraestructure

Jalisco is the best connected

Jalisco is one of the best connected regions in the country with the most efficient network of roads and railroads in Mexico.

Guadalajara has modern interconnection services between cities with adequate routes for transporting goods.

The distance by railroad to Mexico's other main cities is also very short, only 600 km to Mexico City and 1,400 km to Monterrey.

Jalisco has some important projects that will improve our already privileged location:

- Expansion of the highway Manzanillo-Guadalajara.
- Expansion of the highway Guadalajara-Puerto Vallarta.

Jalisco has a railroad network that offers safe and fast connections to main national and international destinations.

Jalisco connects you by sea to any destination. It is located between two of the most important ports of the country: Manzanillo and Lázaro Cárdenas.

Jalisco's capital is 300 km from the Port of Manzanillo, which:

- Is three hours away by highway.
- Has 35 sea transportation lines and it maintains commercial relationships with 57 ports in exports and 67 in imports focus on containerized cargo.

The exit to the Pacific through Lázaro Cárdenas Port is around 500 km away and approximately 1000 km from the Atlantic through the Port of Veracruz..

Jalisco is your flight to success

Jalisco has 2 international airports that offer direct or connecting flights to any destination:

- The first airport is located in Guadalajara; it is the second largest cargo airport in Mexico and fifth in Latin America because of its export and import infrastructure.

- The second airport is in Puerto Vallarta, the most important beach tourist center in the state.

The total number of international flights between both airports in 2015 surpassed 40,000. This represents more than 5 million passengers flying to and from international destinations.

Guadalajara's airport has 23 direct flights to main destinations in the USA with flights that are an average of four hours long. It offers connecting flights to the most important airports in the United States (Los Angeles, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Louisville, Lovington, Memphis, Chicago and Huntsville, among others).

More than 240 international cargo flights per month depart to various destinations.

Jalisco has the best logistics platform, infrastructure and services

Jalisco has the best logistics platform, infrastructure and services at the Guadalajara airport; it is the most modern in Mexico and the second most important in Latin America. This platform offers solutions for all different types of companies. It has a range of storage facilities, crossed-platform services, domestic distribution, intermodal and air transportation, two cold storage chambers, etc.

Jalisco has a logistics center with strategic infrastructure and an intermodal loading terminal, customs and all necessary services.

There are 58 industrial areas including industrial zones, parks and condominiums, such as Guadalajara's Software Center.

Among these, Jalisco has "Colinas de Lagos" a park that will promote industrial activity in the city of Lagos de Moreno, located right in the middle of the Bajío Zone, which is the Mexican Automotive Corridor.

The roads link Jalisco to Mexico City and to other important industrial centers such as Monterrey, Saltillo, Torreón, Querétaro, León, Salamanca, San Luis Potosí, as well as to other destinations in the northwest, center and south of the country.

Economy and innovation

Jalisco is innovation

Jalisco is leader in innovation and design.

The Center for Innovation and Design of Mexico (MIND) is located in Jalisco. There, the different productive sectors meet and create ecosystems with the goal of adding value to industry. These are:

1. Fashion: Jewelry, textile, garments and footwear.
2. Gourmet: Food, beverages, agro-industry, restaurants and tequila.
3. Logistics: Brokers, exports and transports, etc.
4. Furniture: Furniture manufacturers and distributors, interior designers, etc.
5. Design: Formed by associations, agencies and design schools.
6. Habitat: Housing industry.
7. High Technology: IT, telecommunications and electronic industry.
8. Transversal: Support industries to main sectors (printing and packaging companies, etc.).

Guadalajara was selected by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) from out of more than 12 cities in Mexico as the place to establish the Digital Creative City. This initiative seeks to create a center for digital industry in areas such as television, cinema, video, digital animation, interactive media, etc. Continental has an automotive industry Innovation, Research and Development Center, considered one of the three best in the world.

Jalisco has a stable economic growth

Investment in Jalisco is backed by a solid economy and legal security that will enable your plans to become reality. In terms of its economic potential, our state is home to the second largest city in the country and is one of the 4 largest economies in Mexico, representing 7.1% of the country's total GDP in 2016.

Jalisco is trade

Jalisco is an area that offers investment opportunities in all types of productive activities.

In Jalisco 65% of investment growth takes place in the services industry, focusing on trade, hotels and restaurants.

The transformation industry grew almost 30%, with manufacturing and construction being two of the most important activities.

Jalisco is number one in farming and ranching in Mexico. Jalisco is the leading producer in Mexico of berries, agave (tequila), lime, dairy products, eggs and pork meat.

Expo Guadalajara is one of the most important exhibition centers in the country and the third largest in Latin America with more than 70,000 visitors per year to private events that offer world-class exhibitions.

Jalisco is the best destination for investment
